SITUATION

37 Willoughby Street is situated in the pretty village of Muthill in central Perthshire. Muthill is a delightful village with a garage, nursery, primary school, and two restaurants and is surrounded by the easily accessible Perthshire countryside. It has an active community with a range of village focused events throughout the year. The popular and highly sought after town of Crieff, just three miles north provides a superb range of amenities including secondary and primary schooling, supermarkets, cafes and restaurants, independent and national retailers as well as a superb community centre. Crieff also has a range of lovely attractions such as the Hydro hotel, the Glenturret Distillery and a range of galleries. Approximately 7 miles south is the town of Auchterarder, which provides further amenities including a butcher, greengrocer, cafes and restaurants, schools, a medical centre and a well-regarded community centre. Auchterarder is also home to the famous Gleneagles Hotel with various restaurants, golf courses and recreational activities. The Gleneagles train station has regular services to Edinburgh, Glasgow and the sleeper to London.

The 'Fair City' of Perth, roughly 21 miles east, and Stirling, approximately 18 miles south, both offer further facilities including national retailers, cinema, restaurants and national transport links from the bus and train stations. Edinburgh and Glasgow can both be reached in approximately an hours drive.
